

WHAT DO YOU HOPE FOR?

When asked, "What are you hoping for?", here is what people said. Please add your hopes, we would love to agree in prayer with you.

I genuinely hope to become closer and more in tune and rhythm with Jesus. More focused and aware of him. More in love with Him I hope to be less frustrated with myself.

I hope to be more alive, more all in, more passionate, moment to moment, day by day Not just at the highs in life I want to be more childlike, believing more, being more open eyed and easily wowed.

I hope to fulfill ALL God has planned for me, I have been living too small in my thinking.

I just want to more balanced and wiser: strength and kindness, confidence and humility, practical and spiritual, growth and appreciation, lion and lamb, love and truth, I hope to be spontaneous as well as disciplined.

I need focus and direction for this next season. I hope that it will be clear and set. -Matthew 6:33.

Personally, I hope to spend more quality time with my family and go on at least two vacations.

In my business, I want to grow my company. I pray God sends me great people to work with as well as awesome jobs.

It is a petty hope, but I would love to have perfect skin I've had acne for far too long and I would love to finally have great and healthy skin.

The Holy Spirit gave me John 20:19 Jesus will show up with peace and prosperity- His Shalom in every unexpected place.

I am hoping my husband is healed from cancer and totally whole.

I'm hoping for a deeper understanding and love for those who think, believe and act differently than me.

I'm hoping for less screen time and more play time with our kiddos.

I am hoping to be a more influential and a highly favored leader.

Grandchildren! I don't know if that's for me to decide.

Hoping to begin to dream again.

Hoping in 2019 - for a more personal relationship with God & a very healthy year for my family.

We are hoping to grow our family in 2019.

My prayer is to empower and release others that are in my life to fulfill the call of God on their lives Isaiah 45.

---

I am hoping to do very well at University this quarter.

I'm hoping to find "calm delight" in the midst of a chaotic season.

I'm hoping for I-know-this-is-God moments.

I'm hoping for growth in our business and stability in our market.

I hope my Dad can beat the cancer diagnosis.

I hope that God gives me favor in my new career.

I hope to complete what I promised God I would do and to take others with me.

Psalm 116:12

We are hoping for new doors of opportunities for our family.

I'm believing for a new found confidence in my identity in Christ and for renewed trust in what I believe God has spoken to me.

This is from a POP Talk on Hope. If you'd like to dive deeper or book a coaching appointment with us, visit bepeopleonpurpose.com/contact, or DM us on Instagram: @bepeopleonpurpose.

